Vanuatu
Port Villa is the capital of Vanuatu
Languages: the official languages are English, French and Bislama (which is pidgin English deriving from its name Beche-la-Mere, Portuguese for sea cucumber) with over 100 indigenous languages, Vanuatu has the highest amount of languages per person in the world!

Religion mainly Christian, some cargo cults exist (including the Jon Frum movement which believes that an American who visited in World War 2 will return and make them rich.) a few villages even believe prince Philip is a god.

Currency: the currency of Vanuatu is the vatu
Vanuatu is in poverty the majority of sources say that 51% of Vanuatu is in poverty because they are remote and because they have a lot of natural disasters they land becomes ruined and then they are unable to grow crops and they can't create or grow anything other countries want.

Because the area is disaster prone so most of the towns are villages and only 20% of people live in suburban areas.

Vanuatu's economy is a mixture of traditional and modern economy. Agriculture supports almost 65% of its population they farm crops such as yams, taro, manioc, sweet potato, and breadfruit (breadfruit is a type of melon).
While 94% of Vanuatu’s population is indigenous Melanesian, it is not one culture, but many. This can be seen by the fact that over 115 different dialects are spoken within the islands.

Some 80% of people live in rural areas, mostly in small clan-based villages. Most of the people farm their own food so they work very hard.
Vanuatu combine traditional south Pacific cuisine with introduced elements
This is where you can investigate the culture of the country:

- What do the people in this country do for entertainment?
- What artistic things (e.g. theatre, art and craft etc) occur or have developed in this country?
- What festivals or major events occur in this country?
o Give an example of 1 or 2 famous people from this country. What did they do? Why are they famous? See if you can insert a picture of them as well.
People from Vanuatu wear traditional and casual clothes
Vanuatu participates in lots of international sporting events such as the Olympics and the commonwealth games. Also participating in their own leagues such as basketball, cricket, beach soccer, etc.
This is where you can add other information about the country you have investigated.
Vanuatu is affected by many natural disasters. Such as earthquakes, Tsunami, etc. Which destroys a lot of their crops and kills livestock. Not to long ago there was an earthquake of a magnitude of 7.8 which caused a tsunami which destroyed a lot of crops and food for livestock.

Another major issue in Vanuatu is facing is the high cost of living. The low-middle wage earners have trouble supporting their families and often kids drop out of school to get a job and help support the family.
